	2.	Between 11 and 13 February, the barracks installation in Bohnitzsch quartered an undetermined number of troops who wore red-bordered black epaulets. Except for a invindows, the installation was fully lighted on the evening of 13 February. Many soldiers were seen walking in the billeting area, but no training activity was noticed there. About 80 soldiers with red-bordered black epaulets were engaged in record practice with carbines at the target range. Truck was seen entering the billeting area. *
